

Why buy genuine remanufactured parts ?

(the sensible choice for older vehicles)

Toyota genuine remanufactured parts give you Toyota fit, Toyota reliability – and profit for you. But what really makes a remanufactured engine or alternator better than a non-genuine unit?

When repairing older Toyota vehicles, a completely new engine or transmission isn't always a viable option. However, with genuine Toyota remanufactured parts, you can breathe new life into otherwise un-serviceable older Toyota vehicles – turning potential 'scrappers' into profit.

- Toyota remanufactured parts meet strict Toyota quality standards and are often remanufactured at the same factory as the OE unit
- All key components are automatically replaced (unlike some non-genuine units)
- Just like the original, Toyota remanufactured parts always fit perfectly
- Help the environment – it's easy when remanufactured parts recycle resources and come with the usual Toyota quality
- Reliability? It's Toyota – and there's a 24-month warranty too

Your customer is reassured and your reputation grows. Everyone wins.

Pro tip – remanufactured or new, for best results, Toyota technicians use sealants specified by Toyota for timing chain covers and other seals.

Genuine Toyota remanufactured engines, automatic transmissions, alternators and other components are available for applications including Avenis, RAV4, Yaris and Corolla models—ask your Toyota 'first!' Centre for more details (and great prices).

Don't gamble with non-genuine. You, and competitively priced genuine Toyota remanufactured parts, can keep your customer's older Toyota running.
